Soiltech ASA (OSE: STECH)
Sandnes, Norway, 1. July 2026

Soiltech ASA has appointed Erik Bjøndal-Røvde as Chief Operating Officer (COO) and Glenn Åsland as Senior Vice President (SVP) Technology. Erik joined Soiltech in 2014 and has served as Vice President Operations. Glenn is a co-founder of Soiltech and has been with the company since its establishment in 2011. The appointments are effective from 1 July 2026. The changes are intended to further strengthen Soiltech's operational execution while increasing the company's focus on technology development and international growth.

"I am very pleased that Erik and Glenn will continue as key members of our executive team. Erik has demonstrated strong operational and commercial leadership throughout his years with Soiltech, and I am particularly pleased that we have been able to fill this important role through internal promotion. Glenn has been instrumental in building Soiltech into the company it is today. With Glenn leading our technology development and the international deployment of our technologies, we are well positioned to accelerate innovation, strengthen our competitive position and continue gaining market share", says Jan Erik Tveteraas, Soiltech's CEO.
