5th Planet Games today updates shareholders on two recent milestones for Skybound's tournament-caliber tag fighter Invincible VS: the game's recent Grand Prize wins at the 2026 NYX Game Awards and the launch of Season 2, its second major content update.

The NYX Game Awards recognizes outstanding achievements across the global gaming industry, honoring work in game development, storytelling, game design, audio, marketing and interactive experiences. Invincible VS received a total of 7 NYX Game Awards, including being named a "Grand Winner" in the Sony PlayStation Fighting Game, Game Design, Game Trailer, and Game Social Media categories.

Season 2 expands Invincible VS with the latest playable fighter, Angstrom Levy, a new Challenges Game Mode and additional gameplay refinements. The planned cadence of post-launch support from Skybound is intended to extend the title's lifecycle and maintain player interest.

Skybound presented Invincible VS at Evo France 2026 this past weekend. Europe's largest fighting game event, the three-day festival in Nice brings together leading competitors, fans, and publishers, making it a major platform for reaching the highly engaged global fighting-game audience.

During the event, Skybound premiered a new Season 2 trailer, gave fans a chance to play as Angstrom Levy ahead of the Season 2 release, and revealed Agent Spider as the game's fourth DLC fighter, scheduled for release with Season 3 this winter. The showcase gave Invincible VS meaningful visibility among the fighting game community.

Mark Stanger, CEO of 5th Planet Games, commented: “Delivering compelling content on a consistent basis is essential to sustaining player engagement with Invincible VS. Season 2 demonstrates the team’s commitment to keeping the experience fresh, while the NYX Game Award honors recognizes the creativity Skybound brought to developing and marketing the game to audiences around the world.”
