5th PLANET GAMES SHAREHOLDER UPDATE (OAX: 5PG):

5th Planet Games Reports Sker Ritual's Strongest Monthly Revenue Since May 2025 Following October Promotions and Publishing Activity

Key Highlights:

- In October, Sker Ritual's revenue climbed to its highest point since May 2025, with Oct. 23, 2026 being the highest-revenue day for the game across all platforms since 5th Planet Games assumed publishing responsibilities earlier this year.
- Revenue and sustained improvements in player count were significantly boosted by several strategic promotions and marketing activities throughout October. These included a limited-time Epic Games Store giveaway that generated more than 3 million redemptions and a Steam "Daily Deal" that generated millions of impressions.
- Additional October activity included discounts across Steam, PlayStation and Xbox storefronts, new Halloween themed downloadable content for players, and the opening of North American pre-orders for a physical PlayStation 5 Sker Ritual: Cursed Edition.

5th Planet Games reports to shareholders an exceptionally strong October for Sker Ritual, with the game recording its highest overall monthly revenue across all platforms since May 2025.

As previously announced, 5th Planet Games, in partnership with Skybound Entertainment, assumed publishing responsibilities for Wales Interactive's Sker Ritual earlier this year. In July 2026, refreshed digital editions were released across storefronts, bundling existing content into clear, high-value offerings. Following a burst of strategic publishing activity throughout October, subsequent results mark a new, significant revenue milestone.

Mark Stanger, CEO of 5th Planet Games, commented: "October was an extraordinary month for Sker Ritual. For our shareholders, its significance goes beyond short-term results. This demonstrates how active, strategic publishing effort for games already in the market can generate added revenue, wider reach, and sustained player engagement. These outcomes provide a strong foundation for the game's commercial future and for the growing Sker franchise. We look forward to sharing more updates about Sker Ritual before the year ends. For the longer term, these results validate our focus on acquiring the global publishing rights for similar, proven, established, high-quality games"

Throughout October, Sker Ritual was offered at 60% off on digital storefronts including Steam, the PlayStation Store and Microsoft Store for Xbox. A Steam "Daily Deal" in mid-October generated millions of consumer impressions on the game's Steam page, while a limited-time Epic Games Store giveaway recorded more than 3 million redemptions.

October 23 marked the game's highest daily revenue across all platforms since 5th Planet Games assumed publishing responsibilities. The peak directly coincided with the start of the fall sales and the Epic Games Store free promotion.

Seasonal activity also included the October 28 release of free Halloween cosmetic DLC, available to players across all platforms. Pre-orders also opened in the United States and Canada for the Sker Ritual: Cursed Edition, a physical PlayStation 5 edition published by Skybound and 5th Planet Games.

About Sker Ritual:

Originally released in 2024 for PC, PlayStation 5 and Xbox Series X|S, Sker Ritual is a popular horror shooter and the spiritual successor to the acclaimed survival horror game Maid of Sker. Developed by independent, award-winning studio Wales Interactive, the game is now published by 5th Planet Games in partnership with Skybound Entertainment.

In Sker Ritual, players battle waves of supernatural enemies, alone or in up to four-player co-op, while progressing through objectives, unlocking powers and upgrading weapons. In early 2026, Wales Interactive announced that the game had passed the 2 million-player mark worldwide.
